

Procedure for enforcing judicial decisions

Version 1.0

19/12/2017

1. About enforcing judicial decisions

- 1.1 According to section 10.1 of DK Hostmaster's terms and conditions for the right of use to a .dk domain name, DK Hostmaster will transfer, suspend, delete or block a .dk domain name if there is a decision of a court or court of arbitration to this effect, if the Danish Complaints Board for Domain Names has issued an order to this effect, or if a competent authority has issued an injunction to this effect. Such decisions must be implemented according to DK Hostmaster's instructions.

This procedure provides instructions on how to enforce a judicial decision.

2. If the decision concerns suspension, deletion or blocking of a domain name

- 2.1 If the judicial decision relates to suspension, deletion or blocking of a domain name, a copy of the decision must be sent to DK Hostmaster at suspension@dk-hostmaster.dk. It is important that the decision specifically mentions the domain name and that it specifically states the extent to which the domain name should be suspended, deleted or blocked.

3. If the decision concerns transfer of a domain name

- 3.1 If the decision requires transfer of a domain name, the party to whom the domain name is to be transferred must send a copy of the decision to DK Hostmaster. It is important that the decision specifically mentions the domain name and that the person to whom transfer has been requested is named as the party with the right of use to the domain name in the future.
- 3.2 In order to transfer the domain name, DK Hostmaster requires additional information about the party to whom the domain name is to be transferred. This party must send a completed information form to DK Hostmaster together with a copy of the decision. The information form is available on DK Hostmaster's website.
- 3.3 DK Hostmaster initiates transfer of the domain name on receipt of both the copy of the decision and the information form.

The party to whom the domain name is to be transferred will receive an email from DK Hostmaster about the initiated transfer. The transfer will be completed when the future registrant

- has accepted the transfer and entered into an agreement with DK Hostmaster on the right of use to the domain name; and
 - has proven his or her identity, either using NemID or by submitting other documentation at DK Hostmaster's request.
- 3.4 DK Hostmaster must receive the information form, cf. section 3.2, no later than 90 days after the Danish Complaints Board for Domain Names has ruled on transfer of the domain name, or no later than 90 days after DK Hostmaster has received documentation stating that a court has ruled on transfer of the domain name.

After this, DK Hostmaster ceases to be obliged to ensure that the original registrant of the domain name at issue does not delete or transfer the domain name to a third party.

This procedure is laid down in accordance with section 14(1) of the Danish Domain Names Act. DK Hostmaster A/S is obliged to observe good domain name practice in the laying down of this procedure; see section 14(3) of the Danish Domain Names Act.
